Writes pert to having a uniform coat made for him & gives description of its appearance, describes bullet struck uniform when "advancing in line of Battle" "As we were advancing to the line of Battle, we were under a cross fire. A ball struck my coat pocket and it cut so bad. I lost my memorandum book and one of your letters & one of Father's. I never missed them until after we came out of the fight. The same ball I suppose wounded one of my men. Some of the boys that was behind saw him fall. They observed to me my coat was cut. I did not feel as much excited as I expected I would. I put my trust in God & knew He would do what He thought was right. He protected me in one battle & He can do it in all others. I pray for His mercies & protection. I went in with only 14 of our Co., 7 of them was killed, missing & wounded." "I will write to Melmoth today & have the killed & wounded published. Let me know if you see it appear in the papers. I was also struck by a spent ball on the shoulder. I have the ball in my pocket." ... "We have lost Col. Derby. I do not know whether he was killed for certain or whether he was wounded & taken prisoner. If he is killed, then both of the Cpts. who have the oldest comission will be promoted." ... "We had 407 prisoners taken in the late fight. They were paroled yesterday. The Yankees acknowledge a loss of 10,000 men & say ours was not more than theirs. Our men say our loss was heavy, though great deal lighter than we expected." ... "We have had a dreadful time since we first went in to Maryland. The worst & roughest roads you ever saw over mountains & valleys and travel mostly in the night. Oh! I hope I will never experience such a time again doing without sleep & then when we were stopped, we just had to lie down in the field or in the woods or on a mountainside." VF. $1375.00

Just after dark the firing stopped on both sides (the distance across the river is three hundred yards), everything was perfectly quiet all night. So we thought they were fixing for us, which proved to be correct, for they planted two cannons on the hill opposite during the night, one 12 pound rifle piece and one Howitzer. General Jackson hearing of it sent us word to leave the mill when the men left the dam (which was before daylight); the Capt. being asleep, Col. Ashby told a couple of the boys to tell the Capt. when the men left the dam. ... Just as we were coming out the enemy fired a volley of rifle ball at us. And we concluded that we would have to stay there all day. Just then we heard a cannon fire, the ball passing over the mill. In an instant another ball came clear through the mill passing through both walls and making everything quake. ... A whole regiment of riflemen fired among us, the balls tearing up the ground all around us. They shot grape and shells among us, the shells exploding right among us, but (fortunately) we were so scattered they did not damage. Poor Joshua Parks was shot by a rifle ball near the top of the ridge. It was a miracle that we were not all killed. ... The next night the 27th Regt. was ordered on picket, our company had just fixed to lay down when Jackson sent for us to go down and take a position on the bluff, while some hands went down to finish breaking the dam, which they did about 2 o'clock next morning. Discusses opening of battle. "Our brigade crossed the river on Thursday afternoon towards dark, but for some reason or another we were ordered back, and again we crossed on Friday morning, the first brigade and first division. We advanced steadily after our skirmishers, until we reached the old Richmond road about 2 o'clock in which neighborhood where we have remained up till this time. We have been shelled severely before we got here, and the rebs on the hills before us shell us whenever they take a notion to keep it up very lively when they commence- but the Richmond road is pretty deep, and forms a natural rifle pit so that all the men have to do is lie on the back next the rebel fortifications and shot and shell pass over our heads, just over to be sure but a miss is as good as a mile, and we have only had one man killed by their artillery. Up to this time we have lost in our brigade three killed and six wounded- all belonging to the 121st New York Vols., on picket by rebel in picket duty." None lost for the 96th. Sumner is on the right & Hooker on the left. "Has been desperate fighting both on our right and left, but our division has only had one skirmish. We have not attack the rebs, and they have only attacked us that once when we drove them back. We have been entirely without tents since we crossed the river even the men cannot put up their shelter tents, but men & officers, generals & privates alike have nothing but the sky to cover them day or night." Is writing this on his knee, found this paper by looking around, hardest fighting done on Saturday (12/13). Sunday was quiet with little artillery & no musketry except by pickets etc. VF. $425.00

Pretty lively I can assure you. And they did not make their appearance again. About dark we threw a few shells into the woods but what damage they done we could not tell. The boys stood by the guns nearly all night, and kept the horses ready for a start...one horse wounded by a stray ball, but not badly.
